

World Journal of Environmental Research

Volume 11, Issue 1, (2021)

www.wjer.eu

*Message from the Editor in Chief

Dear reader,

We are elated to publish Volume 11, Number 1, May 2021 issue of our World Journal of Environmental Research. This issue aimed to address topics related to the ever-changing world climate, and the adverse effect it has on the contemporary world. Two submitted papers fitted the aim of the issue, hence, those two papers were selected.

The selected papers were authored by researchers from Cyprus and Turkey. The topics presented in this issue include the following: Climate change: A discourse of our contemporary world; Flash flood risk assessment modelling and methods: Kyrenia Region, Northern Cyprus.

Dear reader, due to the importance of the presented research to practice and academia, we believe that it would serve your needs adequately. We commend our contributors, and we trust that you would enjoy reading.

Best Regards,

Prof. Dr. Murat Sonmez, Middle East Technical University Northern Cyprus Campus, Cyprus, (Editor-in-Chief).

* ADDRESS OF CORRESPONDENCE: Murat Sonmez, Middle East Technical University Northern Cyprus Campus, Cyprus, Email address: wjer.editorial@gmail.com