

¹Message from Editor in chief

Dear reader,

We are elated to publish Volume 14, Issue 1 of World Journal on Educational Technology: Current Issues. The current issue aimed to present advanced technologies used in education. As such, 25 papers were selected after a careful peer-review procedure. The selected papers represent topics from Colombia, Spain, Russian Federation, Kazakhstan, United Arab Emirates, Mexico, Philippines, Malaysia, Indonesia, Saudi Arabia, Peru, Kosovo, and Turkey.

Some of the selected papers include the following: Formation of speech activity of primary school students in foreign language teaching through technology integration; Using unfair means in undergraduate E-learning programmes in English: an analytical survey; The effect of information technologies on the development of moral values of future teachers based on innovations in education; Digital literacy model to empower women using community-based education approach; Formation of a spiritual worldview in students of art education specialties with the help of ethno-design technology; Trends in the development of technological education and advanced vocational training of students in the context of technological education.

We would like to extend our sincere gratitude to all the contributors for making this publication a success.

Dear reader, enjoy reading!!

Best Regards,
